

The inscriptions on tombstones in Borden churchyard

I recorded the following inscriptions with a group of friends 30 years ago, as part of research into the history of the parish which resulted in the first edition of my book 'Borden the history of a Kentish parish'. Every inscription which could be read was recorded. So many years have passed that some of these inscriptions are now illegible. No plan of the churchyard was made. (Helen Allinson 2008)
